

Bullsirir

Zack Masciopinto

Bullsirir is a piece of furniture for a basement type environment that doubles as a functional bullseye trainer for darts. The mechanical iris opens up by manually sliding the slots with a dart to expose the center of the board.

The Bullsirir comes with the mechanical iris cover, as well as the dartboard and dartboard mount. The front of the dartboard mount has places for 6 darts and includes those 6 darts in the package.
