Aura Special Technologies Group

By 2025, studies had proven that good social interactions, such as proper eye contact and body posture have a direct correlation to overall workplace performance; increasing the need for transparency of this information.

CONFi began as a prototype and pilot program within Aura and its huge success led to its public deployment in 2030. It is now being used worldwide by 400 trusted partners of Aura. With the success of CONFi, the recording and metricating of every day interactions has become habituated within the workplace.

CONFi will assist your company in gathering these metrics and will provide you with a detailed report on how each and every one of your employees is doing. With CONFi you'll know exactly who to promote and who to fire... with confidence.
