ABOUT VAULT

We proposed to create a web extension that would prompt deletion periodically and simultaneously create a visualization of one's deletion of personal content from their Facebook. This visual effect creates an abstracted repository. The user classifies how they feel about the post deleted and then each memory is sent to either a bonfire, lake, or floating balloons (anger, sadness, regret). These vaulted memories allow the user to not be triggered by emotions while using FB, but keeps a space for them to intensely revisit these memories.
